

SWOSU Writing Center Opens January 19

01.06.2010

The Writing Center at Southwestern Oklahoma State University will open January 19 for the 2010 spring semester on the Weatherford campus.

Valerie Reimers, director of the center, said hours will be posted on the center's website on the SWOSU website at that time.

During the fall semester, Reimers said the center met with students for approximately 605 walk-in sessions and replied to 373 e-mailed projects, making the total 978 for the semester. During the entire 2008-09 year, the center served 1,243 sessions for the entire year. Reimers is pleased with the increased activity at the center.

She said students may always call ahead to check tutor availability or to make an appointment. The number for the center is 580.774.7083. Students may also e-mail a paper to writingcenter@swosu.edu.

Reimers said all disciplines are welcome and students may bring projects at any stage in the writing process.